DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statement filed 12/29/2003 fails to comply with 37 CFR 1.98(a)(3) because it does not include a concise explanation of the relevance, as it is presently understood by the individual designated in 37 CFR 1.56(c) most knowledgeable about the content of the information, of each patent listed that is not in the English language. In particular, French Patent No. 1,443,272 It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the "at least one axially stiff elongate member...provided with a pair of jaws at each end" (claims 1, 10, 27 and 34) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-32 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Although applicant's specification provides a written description of a pair of axially stiff elongate members (32) provided with a pair of jaws (7, 9) at each end, applicant's specification fails to provide an adequate written description of a single axially stiff elongate member being provided with a pair of jaws at each end as set forth in claims 1, 10, 27 and 34.

Claims that have not been specifically mentioned are rejected since they depend from claims rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 27-29, 31 and 32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 5,542,767 to Hedaya et al. See Figs. 17-18.

Hedaya et al. discloses an insert comprising a pair of elongate members 17a hingedly connected together by coil spring 18 that biases the elongate members into an open configuration.

The front and rear edges of the elongate members in Hedaya et al. are considered to meet the recitation “a pair of jaws at each end” to the same degree that applicant sets forth the structure of the “jaws”.

The recitation that applicant's device is “for securing between substantially parallel tubular guide members on opposed sides of a bulk bag” has not been given structural weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

7. Claims 27-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Statutory Invention Registration No. H37 to Schettino.

Schettino discloses a spring comprising a plurality of axially stiff elongate members 46a, 46b, 48 and 50 that are hingedly connected to each other. The inherent characteristic of the material from which the Schettino spring is made biases the elongate members into an open configuration.

The supporting surfaces 52 at the end of elongate members 48, 50 and the “toes” at the ends of the elongate members 46a, 46b meet the recitation “a pair of jaws at each end” to the same degree as claimed.

The recitation that applicant’s device is “for securing between substantially parallel tubular guide members on opposed sides of a bulk bag” has not been given structural weight because it has been held that a preamble is denied the effect of a limitation where the claim is drawn to a structure and the portion of the claim following the preamble is a self-contained description of the structure not depending for completeness upon the introductory clause. Kropa v. Robie, 88 USPQ 478 (CCPA 1951).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3727

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claim 30 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hedaya et al.

Hedaya et al. discloses the claimed invention, as discussed above, except for the elongate members 17a being made of corrugated plastics material. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use corrugated plastics material for the elongate members of Hedaya et al., since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claim 33 is allowed.
11. Claims 1-26 and 34 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

13. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
